RESEARCH AND DEVELOPMENT PROJECTS—OUTPUT PERFORMANCE MEASURES

INDICATOR #	OUTPUT MEASURE	OBJECTIVE	DEFINITION	REPORTING FORMAT
1	Earmark funds awarded for research and development studies and projects	Increase knowledge about delinquency, child protection, victimization, and related services	The amount of Earmark grant funds in whole dollars that are awarded for research and development studies and projects during the reporting period. Research studies are activities that involve data collection and data analysis on a juvenile-justice area. Projects can include application of research studies findings, or development of products or services of value to the field, such as databases, instruments, etc.. Program records are the preferred data source.	Earmark grant dollars awarded to program for research studies, evaluation and/or development of training curricula.
2	Earmark funds awarded for process, outcome, and/or impact evaluation studies (includes field testing of training curricula).	Improve program effectiveness	The amount of Earmark grant funds in whole dollars that are awarded for process, outcome, and/or impact evaluation studies during the reporting period. Program records are the preferred data source.	Earmark grant dollars awarded for process, outcome, and/or impact evaluation studies
3	Number of research studies completed	Increase knowledge about delinquency, child protection, victimization and related services	The number of research studies funded during the reporting period. Program records are the preferred data source.	Number of research studies completed during the reporting period.
4	Number of program evaluation studies completed	Improve program effectiveness	The number of program evaluation studies completed during the reporting period. Program evaluation studies include process, outcome, and/or impact studies. Program records are the preferred data source.	Number of program evaluation studies completed during the reporting period.
4	Number of training curricula developed.	Improve tools for knowledge dissemination	The number of training curricula developed during the reporting period. Includes curricula developed for professionals working with youth and/or families. Program records are the preferred data source.	Number of training curricula developed during the reporting period.
5	Number of OJJDP research and development products and publications based on Earmark-funded research or evaluation activities or training curricula development.	Improve knowledge dissemination	The number of OJJDP-published research and development products and publications based upon Earmark-funded research or evaluation studies, or training curricula development, during reporting period. Agency records are preferred data source	A. Number of OJJDP-published research and development products and publications based on Earmark-funded research or evaluation studies, or training curricula development B. Number of OJJDP-sponsored conferences, or sessions at professional meetings C. A+B

Bold indicates mandatory indicators.